Released on Bail.

Henry and Shepard F. Kollock, who have been at Waukegan since the first of last May, and who were granted a new trial, as announced in our last issue, arrived in the city last Saturday morning in company with Sheriff Wheelock. Between nine and ten o'clock they appeared before Judge Murat, who had been authorized by Judge Webb to approve of bail bonds, and gave a joint bond in the sum of $1,000 each for their appearance for trial, with Nelson Kollock and Henry Curran as sureties. They were immediately released and departed for their home in the town of Almond. A new trial was granted by the supreme court on the ground that the judge of the circuit in his charge to the jury, was not sufficiently explicit in defining circumstantial evidence.

"Amorita."

"Amorita," Cizbulka's charming opera comique, is to be produced at the Grand Opera House, next Saturday evening. The scene of "Amorita," being laid in Florence in the fifteenth century, allows of much display in the way of costumes and scenery. The story is largely concerned with the loves of Angelo Mallinoti, a young sculptor, and Amorita, the daughter of Cascrucchi, a furrier. Fra Bombarda, the Dictator of Florence, is also enamored of Amorita. He is an usurper and is finally overthrown by the Duke of Medici, while Angelo and Amorita are left by the final curtain as happy as the usual hero and heroine.

AFTER A FORGER.

Witnesses Summoned to Identify a Clever Swindler Who Visited This City Last Spring.

Detective Dennis Sullivan, of Milwaukee, was in the city this morning, coming up to summon G. E. McDill and Louis Brill, cashier and vice president of the Citizens National bank, to appear in the Cream City in a few days and identify one of the most clever old forgers in the country. On the 10th of last April this last named individual, who gave his name as R. L. Goodwin, appeared in Stevens Point and purchased a draft for $18.00 at the Citizens National, saying that he wished to send that amount to his home in Green Bay. He was a tall, round shouldered man, with grey hair and whiskers, and between 50 and 60 years of age. Both Messrs. Brill and McDill were in the bank at the time, and from the man's actions their suspicions were aroused.

Nothing further was thought of the draft, however, until after the first of the following month, when it came back from the Wisconsin National bank, at Milwaukee, upon which it had been drawn, but instead of being only $18.00, it was now $1,800, and had been duly paid by the latter institution. After buying the draft here, it was sent by the forger to New York, where the changes and alterations were duly made, requiring the most expert skill, and while the job was a bungling one in some respects, it baffled the wits of the teller and other bank officials at Milwaukee. The draft was issued here on the 10th, and the date was changed on its face to the 21st, but instead of being "st" it was left "th" after the figures. This was overlooked, however, when the draft was paid. Mr. McDill's signature was also quite cleverly forged on the back of the draft. The Citizens National bank is out nothing by the forgery, the loss falling upon the Wisconsin National. Several other banks in this state were brought in in the same manner by the smooth old individual, including one at Appleton, and it is estimated that he succeeded in securing fully $50,000 in this state and Iowa. Goodwin was arrested in New Jersey a short time ago, but his pals in crime have not yet been apprehended.

The Central Changes Time.

A new time card went into effect on the Central, last Sunday, and with it several advantages are afforded the traveling public. For some time past it has been necessary to take the early morning freight in order to connect with the north bound train on the Valley road for Wausau, Merrill and points north. Now connections are made by taking the passenger train from this city. The Portage train, leaving Stevens Point in the morning, arrives at Portage at 1:15 in the afternoon, and leaves that city again at 3:55, arriving here at 8:05 in the evening. The local freight on the same road arrives from Montello at 11:45 in the morning, and leaves again at 1:45 in the afternoon, giving people sufficient time to get their dinner and transact business in this city. Following are the other changes: The morning train from the east (No. 1), arrives at 7:50 and departs at 8:00 o'clock. The evening train from the west (No. 2), arrives at 8:15 and departs at 8:25. The time of the limited train from the east (No. 3), due here at 1:40 A. M., remains as heretofore. The limited train from the west (No. 4), arrives at 1:35 A. M. and departs at 1:40. The afternoon passenger from the east (No. 5), arrives at 5:00 and leaves at 5:10. No. 6, the noon train from the west, arrives at 11:50 A. M. and departs at 12:01 P. M. The time of the morning and evening trains (No. 7 and No. 8) to and from Milwaukee, remains unchanged. The Portage passenger leaves at 8:05 A. M. and arrives from Portage at 8:05 P. M.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

MRS. M. W. BLANCHARD.

Mrs. Marshall Blanchard died at her home in Chicago, last Friday noon, after being confined to her bed for two months with abscesses on the brain. Her malady was due directly to catarrh, from the effects of which Mrs. Blanchard had been a sufferer for many years. The deceased lady's maiden name was Maryette Pease, and she was born at Whitewater, Wis., October 9th, 1852. When a little girl her parents removed to Plover, where they lived for a few years, afterwards coming to Stevens Point. Maryette, or Etta, as she was more generally known, was married to Marshall Blanchard in this city some twenty-three years ago, the ceremony taking place in the residence now occupied by John Stumpf and family, the place at that time being the home of Mr. Pease. Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard and sons went to Chicago nine years ago, where they have since lived, but all have made occasional visits since moving from here, although it is nearly five years since Mrs. Blanchard was last in Stevens Point. She had scores and hundreds of warm friends in this city and Plover, all of whom will be deeply pained to hear of her death. A loving wife and affectionate mother has gone to her reward. Besides her husband she leaves two sons, Arthur and Roswell; three brothers, Chas. and Frank, of Missouri, and Geo., of Georgia, and one sister, Mrs. Edwin Keith, whose home is in Missouri. Her aged mother is also living, making her home with her daughter at Kirksville, Missouri. Mrs. John Stumpf, of this city, was an aunt of the deceased. The funeral took place last Sunday afternoon, from the family residence.

AUGUST OETKER.

The funeral of August Oetker, whose death occurred last Wednesday noon, and was briefly mentioned in our issue of that day, took place from St. Joseph's church at 9:30 last Saturday morning. It was held under the auspices of Branch No. 123, C. K. of W., who attended in a body and were accompanied by about twenty-five of the members of Branch No. 11. The services at the church consisted of a Requiem High Mass, which was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Father Westkamp, assisted by Rev. W. J. Rice and Rev. Victor Lebjicki. The active pall bearers were F. A. Krembs, John Linder, Jacob Miller, Peter Schmidt, Joseph Krause and H. Martini; honorary bearers, N. Jacobs, E. D. Glennon, Peter Koehl, Bernard Drewis, Matt. Trummer and John Tyler.

The deceased has been a resident of Stevens Point for nearly thirteen years, and worked in the mills previous to about two years ago, when he engaged in business at the South Side. He was a quiet, gentlemanly young man, about 35 years of age, and was a native of Westphalia, Germany. He had no relatives in this country, but leaves an aged mother and two brothers and two sisters in Europe. He carried an insurance of $2,000 in the Catholic Knights, and by the terms of his will left $500 to his mother; $500 to Miss Emma Massman, of this city, to whom he was engaged and intended to be married this winter; $500 to St. Joseph's church; $250 for funeral and other expenses, and $250 for the purchase and erection of a monument to his memory. John Massman and Jos. Frank were made special administrators of the estate, and are now in charge of the former business of the deceased at the South Side.

MRS. MARY LEE.

The remains of Mrs. Lee, wife of Ira Lee, of Knowlton, were brought to this city for burial last Wednesday, she having passed away at her home at 11:55 on Monday night previous. She had not enjoyed good health for two or three years, and for about three months previous to death had been in very poor health. On Saturday, however, she attended to her household duties as usual, but after retiring for night was taken seriously ill. Assistance was summoned immediately, but she grew rapidly worse, unconsciousness setting in the following day, and she remained in that condition until the final call was made. Death was the result of general debility. The deceased, whose maiden name was Mary Leahy, was born at Chicopee Falls, Hampden county, Mass., Dec. 7th, 1849, and came with her parents to Berlin, this state, the following year. In 1855 they removed to Stevens Point, and she had resided ever since until she was married, about 17 years ago. Since then she had made Knowlton her home. A husband and five children, four boys and one girl, are left, the oldest being 18 and the youngest 6 years of age. She also leaves two brothers, Dennis Leahy, of Lanark, and John Leahy, sheriff-elect, of this city. The funeral took place from St. Stephen's church, Rev. W. J. Rice officiating, and the pallbearers were John McGivern, P. H. Cashin, M. Clifford, Patrick O'Connor, John F. Shea and A. J. Cunneen. Those who accompanied the remains from Knowlton were Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Stark, Anthony Stark, T. R. Guenther, Chris. Welsnicker, John Malone, Mrs. Thos. Malone, Fred Woldenhaur and Mr. and Mrs. John Squabalski.

MRS. ZIMMER.

Mrs. Chas. Zimmer, whose illness has heretofore been mentioned in these columns, died at the residence of her father-in-law, Conrad Zimmer, last Wednesday. The deceased lady came here from her home at Perry, Iowa, about four weeks before. The cause of death was an abscess, which had formed on the brain, but she seemed to improve at times until immediately preceding her death, the end coming suddenly. The deceased lady was 28 years of age, and was married to Chas. Zimmer at Perry, Iowa, in 1889. Besides her husband, she leaves two little children, a boy and girl, aged 4 and 2 years respectively. The remains were taken to her home at Perry, last Thursday morning, the family being accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Michael.

Were Declared Innocent.

The sheriff of Marathon county came down last Saturday and arrested J. Doane, Ralph Doane, Rupert Ward and Aug. Stienke, of Arnott, Ira Barker and Frank Richmond, of this city, and took them to Wausau, complaint having been made by Deputy Game Warden Benj. Fleming, of Amherst, that the six gentlemen first mentioned had been running deer with dogs. The trial came off Monday, several witnesses being sworn, but none of them could prove that the boys had run any deer with dogs, and they were accordingly discharged without having to say a word in their own defense. The "prisoners" report having had a first-class time, stopping at one of the best hotels, and are very well pleased with their trip. The Wausau Justice expressed it as an outrage to have a game warden from this county come up there, swear out warrants for a half dozen men and make such an expense to the tax payers, when there wasn't a ghost of a show of convicting them. The might-have-been offense was said to have been committed in the southern part of Marathon county about the 15th of October.

Normal News Notes.

Miss Maud Welch, one of the Normal students, has been out for a few days on account of illness.

Prof. Sylvester, institute conductor for the Normal, is at Rhinelander this week, pursuing his calling.

Miss Stevenson, who has been sick for several days, is rapidly improving and will be in school again in a few days.

Miss Sexmith, who has been here since the school opened, has returned to her home at Fond du Lac for the winter.

Pres. T. B. Pray, of the Normal, spent a day at Ashland, last week, where he delivered a lecture on an educational subject.

Earl Alban has withdrawn from the Normal, having secured a position as teacher in the southern part of the county. Miss Bell Clancy has also left to teach in Vernon county.

The second quarter of the school year is just beginning, and the work is moving along finely, with new lines of study for some of the students and progress or advancement for all. The first quarter's examinations were completed at the close of last week, and although the result has not been made public as yet, it is believed it is highly satisfactory to the teachers.

New pupils are coming nearly every day, and the following names have been added since our last issue: Lizzie Finch, Stevens Point; Carrie Lapham, Friendship; Maud Dumas, Marshfield; Mary E. Latham, John Mathe and John Karnopp, Stockton.

—W. C. Lee, who has made Stevens Point his home during the past two years, engaged in business at the South Side, will remove to Waukesha in a week or two. He owns a residence in that far-famed village, and will no doubt soon engage in some other line of business.

—Fred. Richmond, a brakeman on the Portage branch of the Central, had the two fingers on his right hand so badly jammed and lacerated, while coupling cars at Plainfield, last week, that they had to be amputated at the knuckle joint. Dr. Atwell performed the operation, and Fred. is doing as well as the circumstances will allow.

—A large force of masons and brick-makers are now laying the foundation and other necessary stone and brick work for the three new 70-horse power boilers being put in at the Central shops. The paint shop is being more or less successfully heated by steam from a locomotive, but as soon as the boilers are in place, heat will be supplied from the main shop. The round house will also be kept warm from this latter source.

—E. J. Slosson, cashier for the Northwestern R. R. at Rhinelander, accompanied by his wife and two little sons, came down last Saturday and spent the ensuing three days with his brother-in-law, B. F. Bowen, at the South Side. Mr. Slosson was a resident of Stevens Point in former years, being employed by the Central company as master mechanic's clerk at the machine shops, and therefore has a friendly feeling toward our city.

—Bert. Bowdish was summoned to Waukesha, the last of the week, by a telegram announcing the fatal illness of his mother, Mrs. A. H. Bowdish, who passed away on Friday last after an illness of over ten months with consumption, aged 66 years. A., who is connected with the Evening Wisconsin, at Milwaukee, and Bert., of this city, besides one daughter, Mrs. Geo. Horton, of Endeline, N. D. Two of her brothers are clergymen and a third is practicing medicine in Philadelphia. The funeral took place at Waukesha last Sunday afternoon.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Miltimore were called to Delavan, last Saturday, by a telegram announcing the death of the former's sister, Mrs. Milton Harrington, who passed away the day before after a long illness with consumption, aged 58 years. Mrs. Harrington was one of six survivors of what is known as the Miltimore massacre of 1859. Her father, mother, four brothers, a sister, herself and husband and others of a numerous party were crossing the plains on their way to California when they were attacked by Indians and all save six who managed to get away in the darkness were murdered and scalped. Mrs. Harrington was a woman of beautiful Christian character. Her loss is mourned by a husband, a young daughter and three sons, Grant D., editor of The Delavan Enterprise, Harvey H., claim agent for the Wisconsin Central railway, whose headquarters are in this city, and Edward Harrington, of Waukesha.

Schlung; vice president, Henry Creuger; financial secretary, Selma Bier; corresponding secretary, John Creuger; treasurer, Anna Gill. The League will meet every Friday evening.

—The Central company has issued orders reinstating all the workmen who were discharged, or laid off on their own account, during the A. R. U. strike of last summer, and advising that they be given employment as far as vacancies and work will warrant. None of the men at work in the shops were discharged or stepped out as has been reported, and the few that did, either belonged to the train service or were employed in bridge building. The company is preparing for the holiday trade and has leased 250 cars from the Eureka Transportation company. The Central is hauling but a few of its old cars, and there are nearly 1,000 on the tracks here to be painted and repaired. This will be done as soon as the reorganization of the road is perfected.

Prof. Freeman Will Lecture Here.

Circumstances have at last shaped themselves so that the "Students Round Table" can now announce that Prof. John C. Freeman, of Madison, will deliver a course of six lectures in this city, in the near future. This is highly gratifying to the society as well as to the people at large, as is evinced by the numerous requests made upon the Round Table for the engagement of Prof. Freeman. Prof. Freeman is undoubtedly the most popular lecturer in Wisconsin today, and his subject this time will be his favorite one—Shakespeare. The fruits of a life-work will be embodied in this course of lectures, and we sincerely hope that every reader and student of Shakespeare will honor Prof. Freeman with his presence and get new thought and new light upon this master-mind, whose works stand without a peer in the literature of the world. As already stated, the study of Shakespeare is a favorite with Prof. Freeman, and more than once has he taken the floor to defend his title against the Baconian theory so forcibly advanced by Ignatius Donnelly and others. Prof. Freeman is not a stranger in this city; his eloquence, his pure and elegant English, his irresistible witticisms and his masterly method of narration always command admiration and attention.

The course of lectures will be conducted on the same general plan as the previous courses of University Extension lectures. Each lecture will be followed by a class exercise and mutual discussion of the subject; at the end of the course an examination will be offered for such as may desire it, and certificates will be awarded by the faculty of the University to those who merit them, which will have the same value on the records of the University as one-fifth studies for one term, and will be accredited accordingly should the holder take a course at the University. It is to be hoped that many of our, especially young, people will avail themselves of this opportunity.

Remember, there will be six lectures, two weeks apart, the first to be delivered Thursday evening, November 29th, at 8 o'clock, in the Presbyterian church, at which place the others will also be held. Tickets for the course of six lectures only one dollar; single admission, 35 cents. The ladies are now selling course tickets and all whom they approach should buy.

Keep Your Walks Clean.

The ordinance which provides for the removal of ice and snow from the sidewalks in the city, requires that the same must be removed within twenty-four hours, and if not so removed, the street committee shall cause the same to be removed, charging the costs against the property. If not sooner paid, it shall be collected at the time and manner that other taxes are collected, with interest at 10 per cent. The owner or occupant is further subject to a fine of from $1.00 to $10.00, or shall be imprisoned not less than five nor more than twenty days, upon conviction of failure to remove the snow and ice from his walk as provided in this ordinance.

BECOMING GARMENTS FOR THE GIRLS OF THE FAMILY.
Mate Leroy Advocates Studied Simplicity and Cites Some Charming Costumes in Support of Her Theory—Gowns Seen at the Flower Show—New Waterproofs.
(Copyright, 1904, by American Press Association.)
In France and Germany there exists an unwritten law governing the dressing of the young girls of the family, not the little girls, but those between 16 and 20, and, in fact, all unmarried ladies who are young. There is a studied simplicity about their attire that throws into higher relief the youthful freshness of the face and the slender grace of the young girl. As a general rule, our young Americans do not take kindly to the severe simplicity of their sisters from over the sea, and they lose more than they know by the difference.

HOME DRESS FOR YOUNG LADY.
It is only of late years that mothers begin to understand the matter of their daughters' dress in this country, and in the most refined families we now see a gleam of reason showing in the plain white and tinted frocks for the daughters. The white or light material may be of any quality, but the studied simplicity is there. No jewels should find place, and no real lace, which is the dowager's consolation, should be seen. Light tulle, muslins, crepons, fayettes, crystallette and soft, thin silks, with, in some cases, a little point de Paris or oriental lace, form the list of suitable fabrics for young ladies for dinner, reception and dancing gowns. Ribbons, however, are allowable, as ribbon, like death, has all seasons for its own, from babyhood to old age.
For home wear the young girl should bear in mind that the fresh bloom of her rosy cheeks is enhanced by plain, quiet colors, and in no case should the young wearer adopt glaring colors or a profusion of ornament. Grays, drabs, brown and hazy and delicate mixtures should suffice. But everything that a young lady wears should be of the most immaculate neatness. In France the young lady wears light gray from preference, and with this snowy outfit and collar of linen, with very little ribbon and absolutely no jewels unless possibly one small ring of turquoise or pearl. The French girl wears gloves as nearly the whole time as she can for the double purpose of keeping her hands white and soft and in perfect shape.
The young German girl is too busy to wear gloves in the house, her thrifty fingers being always occupied in sewing, knitting or in some other household duties.
Her hands are not quite as delicate as those of her French sister, but they bring far more comfort and blessing to her home. A gown worn by the young daughter of a grand German family now in New York was made of twilled serge in dark blue, with a lighter shade showing beneath, and had a plain demitrain skirt, this probably because the young lady is not very tall, and trained skirts apparently add to the height. The waist was plain except for a very slight drapery obtained by not taking up the darts in the material, but taking in those in the lining. The sleeves were puffed and very prettily draped up the center. On the front of the upper part of the skirt there were 11 straps of ribbon, the shortest one being in the center and the rest graduated in length. This ribbon was blue grosgrain of exactly the shade of the underlying color, and they were all edged by a blue and silver braid. On the shoulders there were bows and straps, and three short ones were placed between the draped material with pretty effect. The ribbon that was put over the shoulders was wider than the other and was brought down to a point in the back, and there ended.

STREET COSTUME FOR YOUNG LADY.
Plaids and stripes and shepherd's checks on the surface and a thin gummied lining. These also sometimes have silk for the outer fabric, but they are in a lesser degree open to the objections of the old maid-fetters. Some and, in fact, the most of the cravatette waterproofs are made up with the same care and style as if they were regulation stuffs for other cloaks. For dust proofs for winter travel the silk warp henriettes are being used. They are nicer for the purpose than silk. Some of the tailor made short length capes of melton in tan, navy and brown, with velvet collars, are very chic and stylish. The Tillyb cap is also "in" for a run. These are always of melton only, while the other capes may be of anything woolen. There are two or three new woolen stuffs shown as novelties. One is called unfinished, and it has a rough, scratchy appearance. Another has the surface nearly covered with little knots, just such as you tie in your thread when sewing. It is very odd and for that reason pleasing.
I noticed some beautiful armor and taffeta fancies in silk and a line of foulards. These last are expected to be the leading spring silks, and they are not on sale yet, but a few dealers are showing them as high novelties to favored customers. They are twilled, very soft to the touch and polka dotted. Some are black, with white dots, and others are colored. There are colored grounds, with black dots. There are several new ideas in moires and figured satin damask in black and colors suitable for street wear for matrons. In peau de sole there are many new effects, mostly obtained through figurings, and there is a limitless number of designs in what they call illuminated fancies in black and colors. All these are duplicated in the fine black dress goods. Many very rich gowns are being made of the heavy corded silk. I saw one yesterday with a full godet skirt. Around the bottom were two milliner's folds of black satin, each surmounted by a fine line of jet galloon. The waist was trimmed with a flat bertha of plain satin notched and edged with jet, and there was a draped collar of magenta velvet. Moire granito is another well liked silk and is being produced in dozens of designs. Grosgrain, plain and figured, is the favorite silk, and after that the reps and corded. I have noticed some terry velvet, as it is called. Unent they call it now. It looks like extremely heavy reps silk. It is superb for cloaks. Gros de Londres, imperial twill, some faille and armure luxur satin duchess taffetas and broadens are all worn. Plaids are used for linings and waists.
Shoes are being filed down to a sharper and more lengthened point than ever, and the foxings are cut and stitched in wonderful patterns. It is necessary to fill the toes with cotton to keep the point in shape. They look well enough, but are instruments of the keenest torture.

USEFUL SHORT CAPE FOR YOUNG LADY.
ed in a double bow and long floating ends. This gown was considered quite a festive one for the young wearer, and she surely looked lovely in it.
To be well dressed is not always to be flashily dressed, and the young gentleman of today in this country begins to realize that fact. Plainer out and in door gowns are the result, and it is well so. The prettiest outfit that was worn at the chrysanthemum show by a girl under 20 was a brown and terra cotta plaid dress, with three or four rows of dull black castle braid around the bottom. The skirt was a simple three piece one, stylish, but not remarkable. Over this she wore a pretty triple cape of terra cotta cloth, with a plaid surah lining and bands of Alaska sable around all of the capes and around the snug turndown collar. Her hat was

DR. MICHAELIS TO A YOUNG MAN.
He Had No Work For This Literary Aspirant, but Gave Him Advice.
Oliver Wendell Holmes once wrote as follows to a young and ambitious literary aspirant who applied to him for a position as private secretary:
DEAR SIR—I regret that it is not in my power to direct you to any place of employment such as you desire. In a city like this the crowding toward all such employments is very great, and there are a few situations to be divided among a great number of applicants. As for myself, I am not (as I am often supposed to be) an editor and have no writing to do which I am not competent to do myself with a little occasional aid from the members of my own family.
I regret not to be able to give you encouragement as to employment in Boston, but the truth is there is next to nothing of the kind you mention, most of our writers being as good as rats themselves and no more able to keep an amanuensis than they are able to set up a coach and six.
I do not even know how to advise you beyond this simple counsel, which I have occasionally given to young aspirants: If you think you have literary talents, write something for the best paper or magazine you can get into, keep to one signature, and you will be found out by a public which is ready to give the highest price for almost every kind of literary stuff.
I do not "turn from your petition with cold indifference," but it is utterly out of my power to do more than give you these few words of kindly advice.
O. W. HOLMES.

Burial Among the Shinnakes.
Among the Shinnakes there are no regular burying places for the dead bearing any resemblance to the cemeteries with which Europeans are familiar, and in the simplicity of cases nothing but a simple sepulchral mound marks the spot where interment has taken place. In a few solitary instances I have found rude human figures carved in wood placed upright at the four corners of a tumulus of oblong form, but such as I have seen are in an advanced state of decay, and I have not heard of any of recent date.
The looking glass, the snuffbox, the comb, knife, spear and walking stick and the necklace which belonged to the deceased, and also a bottle of rum, are, as a rule, buried with the corpse. Many will recognize in this a very ancient custom observed by other nations. In the tombs of Assyria, discovered and opened by Mr. Layard, were found beads, small ornaments apparently belonging to a necklace, vases of green pottery, copper mirrors and copper spoons, bracelets of silver, a pin for the hair, bowls and small alabaster bottles.—Sunday Magazine.

The Mule and the Turtle.
To the traditional antipathies of the animals," gossiped the planter from North Carolina, "must be added the mutual dislike of the mule and the turtle. Whether it is the uncanny appearance or the subtle, fishlike odor of the turtle I am unable to say. But if he pops up his head from the water in the same field where a mule is at work there will be no more plowing corn that day.
"I have known mules which would not go near the brook for days because a turtle had trailed off under the bushes when they were taken down to drink. And I have seen them take the bit between their teeth and break out of a field on a dead run when the scent of turtle was in the air.
"There are some who believe that the mules mistake terrapins for muskrats. Nearly every plantation mule which has worked by the waterside has been annoyed by putting its hoof through the soil down into the muskrat's winter home. And his antipathy for the muskrat thus becomes a question of experience if not of instinct."

Two Rats.
A London journal relates a rat story that is worth repeating. It says a gentleman, on coming home from India on a sailing ship, while in the tropics was one day bathing his hands and arms in a basin full of cool water placed on top of a sea chest. Suddenly a large rat jumped on the chest beside him and looked up in his face; then, placing its fore feet on the edge of the basin, drank long and deep. Although usually "rough on rats," the writer says "he had not the heart to hurt that one, for—to make use of a nautical term—"his coppers were hot." An acquaintance of mine, a truthful man, told me in Melbourne some years ago that one evening, while sitting on his veranda, with his old tom cat (nearly blind) close beside him, a large rat came from under the veranda, and going straight up to the cat, first with one paw and then the other, soundly smacked his face, then slowly retired once more beneath the veranda."

Other United States Than Ours.
There is of course but one United States in our estimation, but as a matter of fact the designating title which we are in the habit of assigning to our own country alone is borne by four other nationalities. They are the United States of Mexico, which came into official being in 1824; the United States of Colombia, which succeeded New Granada in 1861; the United States of Venezuela, which superseded plain Venezuela in 1864, and the United States of Brazil, which were established in 1890.—New York Herald.

SALT WATER IN CEMENT.
The Sulphates of the Sea Are Very Destructive, Says Dr. Michaelis.
In the opinion of Dr. Michaelis of Berlin the greatest enemies to the permanency of the portland cement used in marine structures are the sulphates contained in sea water. If there is any great quantity of alumina and ferric oxide in the cement, the structure breaks up sooner than otherwise. This is accounted for by the fact that the sulphate forms, with the aluminate and ferrate of lime, a number of crystalline compounds, such as basic sulphate of lime, aluminous sulphate and ferro sulphate of lime. These compounds take up a large quantity of water of crystallization, so that the total volume is much increased; hence the weakness and disintegration of the cement structure.
Dr. Michaelis considers that the separation of hydrate of magnesia is quite innocuous, for it is only displaced from its solution in the form of a flocculent, slimy hydrate, which, if anything, is useful in stopping up the pores. His general recommendation to users of concrete for marine work is to choose a cement rich in silica and as poor as possible in alumina and ferric oxide, and to envelop the structure with an impermeable mixture composed of one part of cement with 2 to 2½ parts of sand of mixed grain, of which at least one-third should be very fine sand, and to this the requisite amount of ballast should be added.

Miss Laura Daniels returned home Friday evening, after a week's visit in Merrill, with relatives and friends. Miss Laura went up to be present at the wedding of her aunt, Miss Rosa Ross.

JUNCTION CITY.

Three degrees below zero, Monday morning. L. M. Nash, of Centuria, was in town, Sunday. E. Delancey returned here Tuesday from Ft. Worth, Texas. Mrs. Holbrook is quite sick. Dr. von Neupert is attending her. Confirmation will be administered to a number of children here, next Friday, at St. Michael's church. L. M. Nash has erected a new wind mill, that pumps water from the west side of the railroad track to his barn. Nearly all the young folks went skating, Sunday. Several broke through the ice, the most unfortunate of these being G. E. Taylor, who got several "foot baths."

Good connections here now. The W. C. and C. M. & St. F. trains make direct connections in the morning for all northern points, and the 11:27 A. M. train makes direct connections for Wausau and Merrill. J. J. Callaghan, Supt. of bridges and building for the W. C. Ry., assisted by Messrs. M. C. Ready and Durfee, placed a fifty pound dynamite cartridge in the company's well here, Saturday, and exploded it. It is hoped in this manner to get a flow of water.

SHARON.

Several of our young men went into the woods, last week. Wages are from $20 to $24 per month. A social party was given at the residence of Peter Trierweiler, last Sunday, and all had a good time. A grand ball will take place at the hall of Paul Kier, Thanksgiving evening. All are cordially invited. Peter Bungert has built a new porch to his house, which greatly improves the looks of his place. The carpenter work was done by Mike Mersch. There was a medicine show at the Corners, last week. Free show every night except Wednesday and Saturday, when they charged a fee of 15 cents.

Robt. Wilson, who has been laid up for the past couple of weeks, is slowly recovering. Robert was hurt by falling off a wagon and had his spine fractured. Wm. Steffanus has gone into the lumber business, and is turning them out fast. Prices range from three dollars to six dollars. He will deliver them to any part of the town. Peter Witzler, one of the substantial saloon keepers at the Corners, was married yesterday to Miss Josia Balberski. A grand wedding was held. Our Polish weddings are always great affairs.

AMHERST.

The potato market is steady at 35 to 38 cents. A. P. Peterson is building an addition on his barn. Mrs. Frank Scott has gone to Wau-paca to spend the winter with her mother.

Adam Goldsmith has moved upon the John Dusel farm in the town of Buena Vista. Elmer Berto is now assisting Postmaster Guyant in the office here, and is as efficient as he is accommodating. Mrs. John G. Smith and little daughter, Mina, have returned home, after a pleasant visit among friends at Medford.

Dick Fitch is now sole proprietor of the Central House livery barns, he having bought out the interest of his partner, Wm. Powers.

Teacher wanted. Ladies send your address to E. J., care of Lock Box No. 4, Amherst, Wis., and you may secure a winter term of school.

Geo. W. Fleming spent most of last week at Tomahawk, where he is interested in the mercantile business in connection with Andrew Howen.

A number of the Daughters of Re-bekah from Stevens Point are expected to visit our village this evening, coming down to visit Marion Lodge.

Hans Oleson, of Sheridan, was in town Monday. He says that business up in the mining towns is improving. His trade at Iron Mountain is double what it has been for three years.

Wm. Wilson, chairman from this town, is in attendance at the county board session in your city for the past ten days. Mr. Wilson is proving a good, careful and conscientious member.

One of John Bolter's sons got one of his arms badly mutilated Tuesday afternoon by the bursting of a circular wood saw at Tom Riley's, in the town of Lanark. No further particulars can be learned at this time.

Rev. Wm. Robotham died at his home in DePere on Tuesday of last week. The Advocate says that he was one of the oldest Methodist Episcopal pastors in the state. He occupied the M. E. pulpit in this village four years, leaving here four years ago, when he retired from the ministry, and took up his residence at DePere, where he has since lived.

PLOVER.

Potatoes, 35 cents in this market. W. H. Pott is still quite sick at his home here.

Ed. Packard is buying potatoes for Jas. Bremner here. Geo. Clendenning is sick at his home here.

Prof. Rogers had a brother from his home at Whitewater to visit him over last Sunday.

The Epworth League give a social at Good Templars' Hall, this evening. A. Maxfield has sold his house here to John Patterson.

J. W. Pierce and Geo. Stelling are attending court as jurors.

A. E. Bourn has a large stock of Sewell and Portland cutters, robes and harness in stock here, and the prices are low.

The roads are rough now, but would be a good bottom for sleighing.

Call on C. E. Dunavan for your furniture. A large stock to select from and prices cheap.

N. H. Ingersoll, wife and son, and Mrs. Blanche Smith, nee Ingersoll, and children, of Brainerd, Minn., are visiting at the old home here.

Barley closed at 53 1/2c, rye at 50 1/2c, corn at 48 1/2c and oats at 32 1/2c. Hogs were 10c lower, ranging at $4.30 to $4.75. Cattle were dull, and sheep steady. From the returns so far as heard from in this state, it appears that several Democrats voted for Maj. Upham, governor-elect, and of course they will receive their reward when the leaves and fishes are dealt out in the way of appointments! Just wait and see.

Gov. Peck has issued a proclamation setting apart Thursday, Nov. 29th, as a day of public thanksgiving, and recommending that the day be duly observed, not alone in acknowledgment for past and present favors but in ministering to the wants of the needy and those in distress as well.

The election is over, and we have heard of free trade, protection, strikers, riots, Debism, A. P. A.ism, Protestantism, Catholicism, Americanism, foreignism and all kinds of isms long enough. Now let us get down to business and try and live as neighbors for a couple of years, working for the common good and the advancement of all. It would be well to start in by paying our honest debts, among other things, that others may be enabled to do the same.

The following patents were granted to Wisconsin inventors, as reported by Benedict & Morsell, Solicitors of Patents, 102 Wisconsin street, Milwaukee: H. C. Brookens and L. Bohringer, Bloomington, hame; E. L. Cruger, London, bridle bit; F. S. Culver, Eau Claire, electrical transformer; F. E. Davis, La Crosse, colter clasp; N. Leighton, assgr., Milwaukee, lock nut; F. R. Skidmore, Milwaukee, mouthpiece for wind instruments; W. R. Smith, assgr., Beloit, friction clutch; Lew Wyler, Milwaukee, game apparatus; trade mark to Bidel Chemical Works, Milwaukee, chemicals.

The remains of Ozar Alexander III were entombed in the cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, at St. Petersburg, on Monday last. The great edifice was packed with people, including representatives of all the leading and royal families of Europe, and the streets were jammed. The ceremonies, in accordance with the rites of the Greek church, were of the most impressive, but the most solemn part came when the remains were finally lowered into the tomb which had been prepared for their reception. Impressive services were held at the same time in many of the leading cities of Europe, including Berlin and Paris.

A STRIKING exhibition of fanaticism run wild is given by the criticism of Mrs. Cleveland by members of a Pennsylvania branch of the W. C. T. U., because she followed the usual custom and broke a bottle of champagne in christening the steamship St. Louis, launched at Philadelphia last week. The criticism is all the more senseless because Mrs. Cleveland is a consistent advocate of temperance, never drinking wine at her own or anyone's else table. In this case she was an invited guest and had no more to do with what was to be used at the christening than a guest would have to do with what was served on your table.

Since the late election, some of the Republican writers of Wisconsin, among them A. J. Reid, of Appleton, advocate taking the tariff question out of politics entirely. That sounds very nicely, but the Republican party is not in favor of any such movement. A few years ago they appointed a commissioner of some of the brightest minds minds in the country to look into the matter of tariff and report. This commission, which was nonpartisan, recommended a radical reduction all along the line, and gave good and wise reasons therefor. Nothing has been heard of that commission since. It is quite evident that the Republican party does not want to take the tariff question out of politics, unless the usual amount of so-called protection for the rich, is afforded.

Those republicans and populists who are trying so hard to make somebody think that they believe the democratic party, as a national organization, is dead, are merely making themselves ridiculous. The democratic party, which, to go no further back than the memory of every middle-aged man, made six successive unsuccessful Presidential campaigns—defeated in five at the polls and in one at the hands of an abortion known as the electoral commission—is not to be killed by dissension among a few of its prominent members which resulted in a stay-at-home vote large enough to defeat it in a Congressional election. On the contrary, that defeat will eventually make the democratic party stronger than ever before, because it will result in showing some of the prominent experimenters that deviations from the established principles of the party will not be tolerated by the voters; that thousands, say millions of good democrats will refuse to endorse any half-and-half principles, preferring defeat to compromise with principles they have been taught to oppose. The recent election was a bitter lesson, but the future will prove that it was a useful one.

The U. S. Government, through the Agricultural Department, has been investigating the baking powders for the purpose of informing the public which was the purest, most economical and wholesome.

The published report shows the Royal Baking Powder to be a pure, healthful preparation, absolutely free from alum or any adulterant, and that it is greatly stronger in leavening power than any other baking powder.

Consumers should not let this valuable information, official and unprejudiced, go unheeded.

—The Standard Dictionary, that greatest of all American literary productions, is now ready, having been over four years in preparation by the largest number of eminent specialists ever engaged upon any single literary enterprise in the world. —THE GAZETTE returns thanks to the lady proprietors of the news and confectionery stand across the way, French & Sharp, for a box of their choicest home-made and other candies. The ladies will no doubt enjoy an increasing business, as they deserve, always having the choicest in their line, and have the facilities and experience by which they will make home-made goods a specialty.

—As there is a state law which prohibits cock fighting, it would be improper to give the names of the owners of those who "fought to a finish," last evening. The sum of $22.00 changed hands over the result.

—Conductor W. E. West is no ordinary bicyclist, but when it comes to colliding with a two hundred pound farmer, he has learned by experience that he isn't in it. Will, was riding smoothly along Main street, last Saturday, when one of our country neighbors attempted to cross the street directly in front of him. A collision followed, both rider and farmer measuring their length upon the pavement about the same time. One of the pedal-bars was somewhat bent, but fortunately no other injury ensued.

—To give the names of all sportsmen who have indulged in the pastime of rabbit hunting during the past ten days, would fill a column. To give the result of their expeditions, however, would not require so much space, unless a write up of their experiences in falling over logs, having their faces scratched and hair pulled by unfriendly branches, and such other like experiences was attempted. In some cases the boys have had rarely good luck, as rabbits have been very plentiful this fall, and rabbit stews, among the forests and surrounded by the comforts of home, have not been uncommon.

—Miss Jennie O'Neil Potter, America's favorite impersonator, will appear in "Flirts and Matrons," at the Grand Opera House, Thanksgiving night.

—Adam Paulus is now sole proprietor of the Marshfield News, he having purchased the interest of his partner, John P. Hume. The paper will not suffer any by the change, as Mr. Hume has given but little attention to the paper for years past, devoting his time to real estate matters. Good luck to the "sole proprietor."

—George Woodworth, after spending about three weeks visiting with his parents, brothers and sisters in this city, took the early train for his home at Helena, Mont., this morning. His wife and two little ones arrived here last week, and may conclude to remain some time, visiting with relatives in this city and the town of Stockton.

—Bessie Bonehill, the international favorite who has just finished 360 nights in New York city, and her excellent company of comedians, will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House, next Tuesday evening, in the new musical comedy, "Playmates." Miss Bonehill is one of the cleverest comediennees that has ever been seen on the American stage.

—P. Leonard has purchased the Sam. Cook farm of 140 acres, three miles southwest of the city, in the town of Linwood, having secured the place at a cash consideration that was very low. Only about thirty acres are under cultivation, but the land is firstclass for farming or grass purposes. Mr. Cook has gone west, intending to make his home in the vicinity of Portland, Oregon. He was accompanied by his wife, on Thursday last, and they will send for their children as soon as they get located.

—There was an unusually large audience at Grand Opera House, last Saturday evening, in fact one of the best that ever attended a public entertainment in this city. The attraction was the Calhoun Opera Co. and they played to between a $400 and $500 house, large enough to please both the company and the Opera House managers, Messrs. Bosworth & Stumpf. The company is a strong one in many respects, the leading characters being especially good, including Geo. Lyding, as the hermit monk, Douglas A. Flint as the furrier, Gertie Lodge as his wife, Edward Webb as Sparacami, and Laura Millard as Amorita. The company presented the comic opera, "Amorita," and for nearly three hours they kept their audience in the best of humor. They have a strong chorus of both men and women, as well as a good orchestra.

Sicard and Brillman, of Mosinee, drove down Saturday morning and spent the day with Miss Laura Daniels. Also Henry Kronewetter and O. N. Nelson drove down in the evening.

FLOWER.

Our schools will close this evening for the balance of the week. P. Elder Stone occupied the pulpit at the M. E. church, last Sunday evening. Frank Merryfield has moved into part of the Jenkin's house. Jas. Wagner and family have moved to your city. W. H. Potts is now able to be upon the streets. John Patterson and family are moving into the house they lately purchased from A. Mayfield. A box social will be held at the W. R. C. rooms Friday, Dec. 7th, for the benefit of the school. All are cordially invited to attend. Elmer Woodbury, of Chicago, is visiting his many friends here. Remember there will be a grand dance at G. A. R. Hall, tomorrow evening. All are welcome. Mrs. Hyde will open a new grocery store in a few days, at the old stand of M. F. Pierce. The Epworth League gave a social at Good Templars Hall, last Wednesday evening and a good time was had by all who attended. Mrs. John Syverts, of Mauston, visited with her mother, Mrs. Sam Drake, a few days last week. Mrs. D. went home with her for a short visit. N. H. Ingersoll and family, and Mrs. Smith and family, who have been here on a visit at the old home left for Brainerd last Wednesday. The Tennessee Minstrels played to a full house at G. A. R. hall last Saturday night and gave very good satisfaction. Mrs. D. N. Welch is expected home from her visit up north, this week. Dr. Barnsdale and Staff are getting ready for a large business in the new Business Enterprise they are starting here.

See the elegant display of new furniture at the store of C. E. Dunaven here. D. V. Bean and G. F. Hebbard, of your city, were in town a few hours last Saturday afternoon. A. A. McIntyre, of the Press, was in town between trains last Friday. David Sheburn, of Keene, stopped at the Warner House over last night. It was very dark around the Vezey House, over last Sunday, but it has cleared up now and all is bright, since the minstrels left. Edw. Foulks, with Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., Chicago, transacted business in town last Friday. Mr. Foulks is one of the most pleasant men on the road, and numbers his friends by his acquaintances. 'Tis rumored there will be another hardware store in town. Competition is the life of trade. The new saw mill on the bottoms started up on Monday and is now ready for business. A boy minstrel entertainment will be one of the attractions here soon, by home talent. Andy Carley is helping his brother, Wm., in handling potatoes here. Warren Pratt, of Hancock, was up last week. Ask Warren how the sheriff ran. See the elegant new stock of cutters, robes, etc., at the hardware store of A. E. Bourn. The prices are right. Rev. Olsson, of Keene, was in town a few hours last Saturday. The new horse sheds at the Calkins church, have been finished and are a big improvement. Al. Myers has gone to your city to reside. Potato shippers will do well to see the new potato car stove manufactured by A. E. Bourn. Prof. Becker gave a musical entertainment at G. A. R. Hall, last Monday evening to a small house. The Prof. talks of coming back and organizing an entertainment of home talent. There was a grand free exhibition on our streets early last Wednesday morning, but it was so early that only a small audience witnessed the performance. The act was "Grandpa" Woodbury trying to get off from a rapidly moving train and staying on at the same time, and we will wager that he can take the longest step of any old man in town; the boys measured his steps in the snow, and they were 12 feet apart and by the looks of the place where he landed after he quit stepping it looked as though a tree had been blown out of the frozen ground, and still "Grandpa" is as frisky as ever.

INDIAN Territory affairs are giving the administration considerable trouble just now, and it will not be surprising should the present U. S. Marshal of the Territory lose his official head. He is blamed for not stamping out the lawlessness.

AFTER being out of office for four years, the Republicans of Wisconsin are both hungry and thirsty, and everyone of them seems confident that he will soon have his appetite satisfied and his thirst quenched. Ninety-nine will be disappointed, however, to the one who will be recognized. Each of the state officers, especially the governor, secretary of state and treasurer, have about a dozen positions at their command, and for each of these there are already nearly a hundred applications, with the smaller villages, suburbs and hamlets yet to hear from.

THE Milwaukee Journal figures that "the full returns show that Gov. Peck ran 7,663 votes ahead of his congressional associates and that Maj. Upham fell behind his associates on the Republican ticket 4,563 votes, making a difference of 12,226 votes, quite enough to be discernible even to the most blind partisan. We can interpret the great difference in no other way than that it must have been the combined result of the two influences, that of the good record of the state administration in favor of Gov. Peck and that of the coupon book issue operating against Maj. Upham."

A MILWAUKEE civil engineer who has been surveying large tracts of the burned timber district in northern Wisconsin, states that the land is greatly increased in value rather than decreased by the fires, inasmuch as in many cases the clearing up of the land will fully compensate for the loss of the timber. Especially in the vicinity of Cumberland, on the Ashland division of the Omaha railroad, has a large tract of good agricultural land been pretty well cleared off by the forest fires, and an effort is now being made by the residents of that section to secure farmers to come in and settle on the land.

DUN'S Review for the week ending Saturday says that there are some changes for the better. The gain is slow, and in some directions not very distinct, but the signs of it are a little more definite than last week. The most important of them is larger employment of labor, answering a better demand on the whole for manufactured products. Much of this is due to the unnatural delay of orders for the winter, which resulted from prolonged uncertainty, but it means actual increase in earnings and purchasing power of millions, and so gives promise of a larger demand in the future. Prices of farm products in the aggregate do not improve, but the prevailing hopefulness is felt in somewhat larger transactions.

There was a great foot ball contest at Springfield, Mass., last Saturday, at which time the Harvard College team was defeated by the Yales. A number of other less noted football contests took place in different parts of the country the same day, and in each and every one of them, several persons were injured, four being disabled in the Yale-Harvard contest. The writer does not approve of prize fighting, bull fighting and such like degrading so-called sports, but history shows they are less dangerous to life and limb than foot ball playing. Last year there were seventy-five fatalities among football players, death being the result of injuries received, while between three and four hundred others were injured, some of them permanently.

Knollmuller, Milwaukee, bowling-alley; N. Laidgen, Milwaukee, lubricator; J. N. Moehne, assgr., Milwaukee, check book; trade mark to Vienna Malt Coffee Co., Milwaukee, coffee preparations.

If the level-headed members of the party are allowed to have their way, and everything now seems to indicate that they will, there is to be a radical change in the methods pursued by the democrats in Congress. Instead of trying to commit the party to the support of some measure and then having to hold a conference to quiet the rumpus thus raised, as was done entirely too often at the last session, it is proposed to hold the conferences first in order that there may be no rumpus to quiet. In other words, an attempt is to be made to confine the washing of the dirty linen of democracy to the privacy of the democratic laundry, and to prevent that nauseating process being gone through on the floor of the House. Every democrat who wishes for the future welfare of the party should certainly be able to give that attempt a hearty godspeed. Age, and not Every democrat should indubitably mark upon his mind the names of those calling themselves democrats who shall oppose the proposed change, if there be any such, in order that they may be denied future honors at the hands of the party.

ON ITS returns as officially reported Pennsylvania shows a decrease of 50,124 in its total vote this year as compared with the total vote in the last presidential election. Hastings, the republican candidate for governor, gained 68,790 over Harrison, while Singler, the democratic candidate, lost 115,824 from Cleveland's vote. In Missouri the result is even more pronounced, for there while the republicans gained only 1,927 and the populists only 2,259, the official returns show a democratic loss of 41,853. It was democratic disgust, not republican enthusiasm, that did it.

JAPAN is making clear to the European powers that she is well versed in international law and has the courage to act on her reading of it. Three persons on their way under contract to China to blow up the Japanese navy have been taken off a French mail steamer and are detained as prisoners by the Japanese authorities. The French minister has sought advice from his government. As one of the men claims to be an American citizen and the other is described as an English subject, Japan will have a pleasant cause for diplomatic correspondence with several powers considerably larger than herself. On the face of the facts the arrest of the men was justified, as proof of their mission is in possession of the Japanese government.

JUDGE ROBINSON, of Kansas City, thinks the unexpected tidal wave of republicanism, landed many men in Congress who would never have been even thought of in connection with the nomination had it have been thought that they had the slightest chance of election. In this connection he says: "In Champ Clark's district, for instance, there seemed to be absolutely no reason to doubt Mr. Clark's re-election, and the republicans nominated a music teacher against him. Champ ignored his adversary and went off speech-making in other parts of the state and in other states. Nobody dreamed the music man would win, and I guess it's the first case on record where a 'gent' of that profession was sent to Congress. I don't think, however, that he will be able to sing himself back again, for the democrats in Missouri are not going to be caught napping in 1896."

GRAB IS THE GAME.

EUROPE WANTS TO PLAY IN THE CHINO-JAP WAR.

Great Powers All Have Axes in Grind and for That Reason Are Unwilling That This Government Arbitrate the Difficulty—China, Also, Falls to Name a Basis. WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—It is stated here in official circles that Japan has not yet accepted the invitation of the United States to submit the question of peace with China to our mediation. While this statement is probably literally correct there is reason to believe that Japan has requested, as a preliminary to action upon our invitation, that she be informed exactly just what terms China has to propose as a basis of a treaty of peace. Up to this moment China has not submitted any definite proposals, so that the delay appears to be rather on her part than with Japan. It could not fairly be expected that the Japanese would halt in their triumphant march and perhaps afford their opponents a very potent opportunity to rally from their disorganized condition unless Japan is furnished with some satisfactory proposition by China that may be binding beyond question upon the matter. Ah Sin Still Childlike and Bland. No such satisfactory proposition has yet been made by China, but on the contrary the Chinese tenders so far have been on a basis that could not be accepted with safety and consistency by Japan. For instance a Chinese proposition was that Korea should be evacuated by both Chinese and Japanese troops. Inasmuch as the principal cause of the war was Japan's contention that the entire Korean administration and financial system must be reformed on modern lines, and that Japan must undertake the task, a temporary occupation of the country, at least, by Japan was a necessary condition. Another condition that the Japanese troops evacuate China immediately would also violate all precedent, for it is customary in such cases for the victorious nation to retain possession of captured territory as a pledge until the payment of the war indemnity. Europe the Chief Difficulty. After the Franco-Prussian war the German forces thus held Belfort and other French fortresses until the enormous war indemnity of $1,000,000,000 had been paid to Germany. But disregarding these points of difference it is becoming more evident that the interference of European powers is the stumbling block in the way of a settlement of the war through the mediation of the United States. They nearly all have interests in the East which they regard as paramount to our own, and by no means relish the action of the United States, first in refusing to co-operate with them in intervening, and second in seeking to settle the war without reference to the interests of any nation other than China and Japan—the principals—which might result in the checking of the fruition of some little schemes for their own aggrandizement which had been formed. An official who has given much attention to the subject is of the opinion that Russia will never consent to anything that looks like an indefinite occupation of Korea by Japan, as Great Britain occupies Egypt, unless she is herself allowed to take possession of port in Korea for the eastern terminus of the Siberian railway. France is reported to have demanded a coaling station on the island of Formosa, and Great Britain has reached out for the island of Chusan. It is probable that any representations by these or other powers to the United States to have these claims included in the terms of peace would fall upon deaf ears, although it may be that the combined influence of these powers may defeat our purpose to act as a mediator.

CALL OUT FOR BONDS.

Uncle Sam's Treasury Wants Fifty Million in Yellow Metal.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Secretary Carlisle late yesterday afternoon issued his call for bids for $50,000,000 5 per cent. ten-year bonds, interest to be paid in coin, which is interpreted to mean gold. The only material changes made in the present call from that issued Jan. 14 last are the omission of the upset or minimum price which would be accepted and the notice that the proposals for the present issue must be sealed. Bids will be received up to noon of the 21st instant.

Bidders whose proposals are accepted will be required to pay 20 per cent. in gold coin, or gold certificates upon the amounts of their bids as soon as they receive notice of the acceptance of such bids, and to pay in like coin or certificates an additional 20 per cent. at the expiration of each ten days thereafter until the whole is paid; but they may, at their option, pay the entire amount of their bids when notified of acceptance, or at any time when an installment is payable.

It is confidently expected at the treasury department that an amount will be realized considerably in excess of that received on the February issue. This expectation is based on the fact that there are exceptionally large amounts of money now lying idle and seeking investment in the money centers of the country, and upon the further fact that the February issue is now quoted at $118.50, or about 3 per cent. above the price which would yield 3 per cent. From the last issue there was realized $58,660,917.63, and of this amount $52,500,261.21 was in gold coin, $5,810,420 in gold certificates and $333.39 in other money which the sub-treasuries were compelled to take in making change.

While these amounts were actually paid into the treasury in gold or its equivalent a very considerable amount of gold was withdrawn from the sub-treasuries for the express purpose of using it again in paying for the bonds. The exact amount thus withdrawn cannot be ascertained but the best knowledge obtainable is that it approximated $15,000,000. With a view of a more exact estimate of the amounts which may be withdrawn between now and the settlement of all accounts under the call the sub-treasuries will from this date keep a record of all deposits of legal tenders made in exchange for gold and the names of the firms or persons making them.

O'Malley Is Under Bonds.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—John F. O'Malley, ex-state senator, who shot two men just after the election—neither fatally—and is charged with being the leader of the gang that committed so many assaults at the polls of the Twenty-third ward on election day, walked into a police station and gave himself up. He said he had been in New York, but came back as soon as he knew he was wanted. He was put under bond of $1,000 for making threats and $5,000 for shooting Varolas in a saloon.

REPORT ON THE STRIKE.

The Views of the National Commission Given to the Public.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The report of the strike commission appointed by President Cleveland to investigate the Pullman and railway strikes at Chicago last summer is published. With the two exceptions of stating that the Pullman strikers were not justified in demanding 1893 wages in 1894 and that there were some railway strikers in the Chicago mobs—though but few in proportion to the number of strikers—the document is a condemnation of Pullman and Railway Manager's association from beginning to end. The managers' association is characterized as a "device of the railroads to usurp powers not granted them, affording an illustration of the persistent and shrewdly devised plans of the corporations to overreach the limitations imposed upon them by law."

President Egan to Blame.

The report in effect says that but for the refusal of the head of this association to even consult with the representatives of the strikers the whole struggle might have been terminated with half the loss which was incurred. And it declares that its refusal to so consent was "arrogant and absurd." For the General Managers' association there is nothing in this report except bitter condemnation. "An extension of this association," say the commissioners, "and the proposed legalization of pooling would result in an aggregation of power and of capital dangerous to the people and their liberties as well as to employees and their rights."

Pullman and His Model Town.

Pullman is held up as a man who pretends to be the head of a model community which in fact is the reverse of that; as attempting to force the wages of the whole plant down to a basis that would make profitable the part of the business that had to meet close competition; and generally as taking advantage of the depression to profit by it by so curbing low wages while he charged the same rents, which were 20 to 25 per cent. higher than elsewhere in Chicago.

Upon the question of the responsibility of the strikers for the outrages upon railway property committed at the time of the strike the commissioners say: "Few strikers were recognized or arrested in these mobs, which were without leadership and bent only on destruction and plunder." The mobs were composed of hoodlums, criminals, viragoes and toughs. Dispersal of them by any means was justifiable and necessary.

The Real Responsibility.

So far as the direct responsibility of the leaders of the strike for these outrages is concerned the commissioners are inclined to hold it lightly. "Many impartial observers," they say, "are reaching the view that much of the real responsibility for these disorders rests with the people themselves and with the government for not adequately controlling monopolies and for failing to reasonably protect labor and redress its wrongs."

The committee refrains from making specific recommendations of remedies for the conditions it describes, but suggests a partial remedy in the incorporation of labor unions and their recognition by the government, and a system of "compulsory" arbitration enforced by United States courts.

NATIONAL GRANGE IN SESSION.

Delegates Present to the Number of 375, Representing 1,000,000 Members.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 15.—The National Grange is in session in the senate chamber in the capitol building. Twenty-seven states are represented by 375 delegates. The report of the secretary shows that the organization has 20,000 lodges and an aggregate membership of 1,000,000. Ninety-four lodges and 6,000 members were admitted during the year. Fifty-five lapsed granges were readmitted. The treasurer reported that the permanent fund of $600,000 received during the year $20,763, and paid out $14,435 up to Oct. 1, 1894.

The report of Mrs. M. S. Rhone, of Pennsylvania, as Ceres, was received regarding the erection of a temple to Ceres at Washington, D. C., costing $50,000, the National grange to give $20,000. A 5-cent levy on each member was asked for, which with the initiation fees would give a fund of $10,000 annually.

VERDICT AGAINST COL COIT.

He and Sheriff Cook Charged with Willful Murder by the Coroner.

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, O., Nov. 16.—In the inquest on the five persons who were killed while trying to mob the negro on Oct. 17 last a verdict was rendered declaring Colonel A. B. Coit and Sheriff Cook guilty of taking life at a time when there was no "imminent danger of serious destruction of property or harm to any one inside the court house," or the remotest danger of the prisoner being lynched. This is tantamount to a verdict of willful murder, and the case will go before the grand jury, and the defendants will have to be locked up if the grand jury agrees with the coroner. It is denied here that there is any danger of mob law in the case of either of the accused.

CZAR'S REMAINS AT THE CAPITAL.

Multitudes of People Witness a Magnificent Funeral Pageant.

St. PETERSBURG, Nov. 14.—The remains of Czar Alexander have arrived here and been deposited under a splendid catafalque in the cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. The route of the procession was six miles long and all St. Petersburg saw it. The line of march was black with people, while windows, balconies, and roofs were packed, all showing the greatest reverence for the ashes of the late ruler. The procession itself was well nigh indescribably magnificent, and all the royal personages in the funeral party were in the piquant. At the cathedral an impressive service was performed.

Baptist Congress Has Closed.

DETROIT, Nov. 16.—The closing session of the Baptist congress was devoted to papers on "Christ the Liberator," Christ the Unifier," with Dr. Z. Grennell, of Detroit, and Rev. C. J. Baldwin, of Grandville, O., as the essayists. Before final adjournment the Rev. Dr. McGaurin, of Detroit, thanked the congress for its presence and progressive influence.

Chicago Policemen Suspended.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—After a conference between Inspector Schaack and Chief Brennan at which the former submitted a lot of complaints of the Twenty-fourth ward regarding the conduct of police officers on election day, a list of seventeen policemen was declared suspended from duty pending investigation by the police trial board.

DR. McCOSH IS DEAD.

PRINCETON'S VENERABLE EX-PRES-IDENT PASSES AWAY.

Lays Down the Burden of Life at the Ripe
Old Age of 83 Years.—Some of the Honors
He Won, One of Which Made Him a College Professor.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 17.—Dr. James H. McCosh, the venerable ex-president of Princeton university, and a leading educator of the age, departed this life at 10 o'clock last night. He had been unconscious nearly all day and died in that condition.
His son, Dr. Andrew J. McCosh, his daughters, Mrs. David Magie, and Mrs.

Alexander Maitland, and his wife, Mrs.
Isabella McCosh, were at his deathbed.
He had suffered no physical pain, and aside from weakness brought on by old age had been in perfect health. His physicians attribute his death to heart failure induced by old age.

A Pupil of the Celebrated Chalmers.
James McCosh was born in Carskeoch, Ayrshire, Scotland, April 1, 1811. He studied at the University of Glasgow from 1824 till 1829, and at that of Edinburgh from 1829 till 1834. In the latter institution he was a pupil of Dr. Thomas Chalmers.
Having written an essay on the Stoic philosophy, the honorary degree of A. M. was conferred upon him on motion of Sir William Hamilton. He was ordained a minister of the Church of Scotland at Arbroath in 1835, but removed in 1839 to Brechin, where he ministered to 1,400 communicants. In 1843 he took an active part in the organization of the Free Church of Scotland. While pastor at Brechin he published a work entitled
"Method of Divine Government, Physical and Moral," in which he endeavors to in-terrogate nature by the inductive method, inquiring what is the method of the divine government, primarily in the physical world, and secondarily in providence as relating to the character of man and tending to his restoration.

His Removal to the United States.
In 1868 he removed to the United States,
having been elected president of the College of New Jersey at Princeton, where his administration has been remarkably successful. The staff of professors has been increased from seventeen to forty-
one, and the average attendance of students from 264 to 433. Having been thus successful in his administration, and desiring to be relieved on account of advancing years, Dr. McCosh offered his resignation in November, 1887, which took effect in June, 1888. He was voted a salary as president emeritus, and retained the degree of LL.D. from Aberdeen in 1850, and from Harvard in 1868, while Queen's university, Ireland, has given him that of D. Lit.

MASSACHUSETTS IN MOURNING.

Robt. C. Winthrop, One of Her Most Eminent Sons, Joins the Majority.
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17.—A special to The Republic from Boston says: Robert C.
Winthrop died last night at 11:30 o'clock.
He had been in delicate health for a long time and the end was not unexpected.
Mr. Winthrop had been living in quiet retirement for several years on his account.
He was one of Massachusetts' most noted men, classing high as a statesman and orator. His gift of oratory was something wonderful. He was one of the principal orators at the dedication of the Washington monument, the other one being Senator John W. Daniel, of Virginia.

Deaths of the National Grange.
SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 17.—Nineteen committees were appointed at the meeting of the National Grange. Leonard Rhone, of Pennsylvania, was re-elected a member of the executive committee. Co-operation occupied the attention of the session, and was discussed by George P. Horton, of Michigan; Ira L. Holman, of Ohio; Mr. Keil, of Missouri; Mr. Davis, of Illinois; and P. E.
Malla, of New York. The discussion showed great benefits from co-operation, as the manufacturers deal direct with the farmers. Co-operative insurance in New York had saved thousands of dollars to farmers. The subject will be continued.
The seventh degree was conferred on 200
applicants.

Charges Sage and Gould with Theft.
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Russell Sage and George Gould moved before Justice Tamm, of the supreme court, for an extension of time to answer in the action brought by the Soldiers' Orphans' home of St. Louis to recover about $11,000,000 for the bondholders of the Kansas Pacific Railroad company. Lawyer L. J. Morrison said that the defendants knew about the case and ought to answer immediately. He said that Sage and Jay Gould were guilty of what in plain language is larceny. Decision was reserved.

Knights of Labor Assembly.
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17.—At the Knights of Labor assembly the treasurer reported $9,000 on hand, and property of the order worth $95,000. A motion to elect grand officers for two terms of two years each was negatived by a large majority. Election of officers will be about the last thing done. Powderly is here and has a strong following. He will neither affirm nor deny that he wants the office. He has not yet attended the assembly. The W. C. T. U.
people addressed the assembly this morning.

Morms Stop the Colorado Fire.
BOULDER, Nov. 17.—A heavy snow storm
has checked the forest fires, and Gold Hill is reported to be saved. The property damage is now put at $1,000,000. Several hundred people have been made homeless.

NATIONAL CONVENTION W. C. T. U.

Miss Willard Gives a Lengthy History of the Great Association.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17.—With 500 delegates, from every state in the Union, and a packed audience of believers in the principles of the association, present, the national convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union began its session in Music Hall, which was appropriately and beautifully decorated for the occasion. Miss Frances Willard, the president, called the assembly to order, and proceeded immediately to give her annual address, which was a review of the history of the society from its beginning in the Ohio crusade against whisky to this time
—its arrival at maturity, twenty-one years old.

The address was lengthy, and reviewed the fight against the saloon, the work for social purity and against "living pictures," especially instancing the closing by the London county council of the Empire theater, a variety and promenade show at London, England. The defeat of Colonel Breckinridge was noted, the fight against strong drink selling in the capitals of the states and also on gambling. The press, it was declared, should be owned by the people and the editorial "we" be abolished, each writer being required to sign his name to his articles. But the word of the hour, the speaker said, was the ballot for woman, of which the greatest things were predicted.

She indorsed the opposition of organized labor to the increase of the military,
and also indorsed "compulsory" arbitration. In fact every subject that has engaged the attention of the W. C. T. U. people for twenty years was covered and the progress made in enforcing W. C. T. U. ideals noted with congratulations. Then reports were received, the treasurer showing receipts for the year of over $20,000 and $5,600 in the treasury. The secretary showed a membership of between 400,000 and 500,000. Rev. Dr. Joseph Cook made a congratulatory address, and reports were heard from the various affiliated organizations.

The reports were interspersed with addresses and hymns. There were three delegates from the Roman Catholic temperance element, one of whom spoke, expressing sympathy and co-operation with the W. C. T. U. All the reports on the different branches of reform showed progress. At the evening session the hall was crowded, and addresses of welcome were the order. Welcomes were tendered by organized labor, the mayor, the state and the W. C. T. U., and appropriate responses were made.

TWENTY-TWO ARE DROWNED.

Loss of the British Ship Culmure—Stor m
Still Ragging.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The British ship
Culmure, Captain Read, founded eighty miles off Spurn Head, County of York.
Twenty-two persons were drowned. The Culmure was built at Port Glasgow in 1880. She registered 1,689 tons and was 260 feet long, 38 feet beam and 23 feet deep.
She sailed from London and was owned by Thompson, Dicks & Co.
Stormy weather and floods continue to prevail over the southern part of England and the loss of life and damage to property is increasing greatly. At Bath, Somersetshire, the River Avon has reached the highest point of the century. Thousands of people are homeless and are being fed by the authorities in various schools and other public buildings. Dispatches received here from Dover say that the gale is blowing with renewed violence. Several ships have been washed ashore along that portion of the coast.
The floods in Sussex are increasing.
Many houses at Windsor and Eton have been flooded. At Worthing the bodies of seven drowned sailors have been washed ashore.

Parkhurst Charges It on Byrnes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—In an interview at Lakewood, Rev. Dr. Parkhurst made the following remarks on Superintendent Byrnes: "He has been the executive head of the department during most of that time and it is under him that it has reached the acme of undisciplined and knavery that has been demonstrated to characterize it. Byrnes has done just enough good work, when it served his purpose to do so, to show his capacity, but has been sufficiently churlish in the exercise of that capacity to convict himself either of indifference or of criminality."

Hall Falls to Knock 'Em Out.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Jim Hall failed last night in the endeavor to put out Henry Baker, of Milwaukee, and Billy Woods, of Denver, in four rounds each. Neither of the men were "in it" with Hall,
but he did not seem disposed to push things with Baker and Woods, after being knocked down in the first round, saved himself by continued clinching.

Young Man Shot by a Woman.

STOCKTON, Cal., Nov. 17.—Frank Quinn, a well-known young man of this city, was shot and killed in a lodging house by a young woman named Edith Elder. She subsequently shot herself in the right side, but she will recover. The woman confessed that she intended to shoot Quinn because he had wronged her under promise of marriage.

Cut Hubby Off with Nothing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The will of Josephine L. Peyton, who leaves $3,100,000 and disregards her husband, has been filed with the probate court. Her husband, William K. Peyton, was provided for in a codicil which is entirely revoked
by a later codicil, which says that Peyton
"has not acted in a manner befitting a husband."

WHISKERS OR WIFE?

Captain Larcomb Refused to Share and So Lost His Sweetheart.

Every one in old Greenwich village, this city, knows Captain Larcomb because of the luxuriance of his whiskers. Without the whiskers his own kin wouldn't know him. If the captain had to choose between death and losing his whiskers, most of his acquaintances on the west side of New York agree that he'd say, "Gimme death."
There is nearly enough hair on either side of his face to stuff a pillow.

The captain is a rich bachelor and about 40 years old. If by spending $1,000 the luster or bushiness of his whiskers could be increased in the slightest degree, Captain Larcomb wouldn't hesitate a minute.
He puts a double value on them, because they cost him the only woman he ever loved. He told her of his passion, and,
like the girl in the "Bab Ballads," "she reproached it."

"Will you marry me, then?" said the captain.
"I love you," she replied, "but I cannot attach myself permanently to such a pair of whiskers. Shave them, and I am yours."

"But I could not think of such a thing!"
protested the captain.
"Well," said she, shrugging her pretty shoulders, "it's for you to decide. Which is it to be—me or the whiskers?"

"Whiskers!" sighed the captain.—New York Advertiser.

THE PROFESSOR'S CHICKENS.

His Knowledge of Poultry Farming Was Rather Limited.

This may not be new, but it was new to the reporter who overheard it on an East Providence car, so it is likely that there are others who have never heard it.
The young man who told it was evidently a collegian, as was his companion.
"I heard a good one on Professor — of Andover," he said.
"What was it?" queried the other.
"Well, you know, he was married during the winter and went to housekeeping just outside the village. This spring he thought he would add a few hens to his stock. He already had a dog. He set a couple of the hens and in time had two large broods of chickens. He was very proud of them, but in a week or so the hens began to die. He called in a neighbor to look at the chickens and offer advice. They were certainly a pretty scaly lot of chickens that the neighbor viewed.
They were skinny looking and apparently without ambition.
"What do you feed them?" asked the neighbor after a brief survey.
"Feed them?" responded the professor,
as though he didn't hear aright. "Why,
I don't feed them anything. I thought the old hens had milk enough for them."
—Providence Journal.

Always a Cigar For a Friend.

My friend Brown, who goes into society
as she exists, says he is acquainted with a man who keeps a box of cigars for his friends, and nearly every cigar in the box is different from all the rest. The man doesn't smoke himself. For a long time my friend Brown was a good bit puzzled to account for this curious combination of the weed and once asked the society man about it, but beyond a meaning smile he got no answer. Having discovered the source of that apparently inexhaustible
supply of queer cigars at last, my friend Brown hastened to relieve my anxiety so that I might tell the rest of the world.
"You see," says my friend Brown, "he doesn't smoke. Well, when he is offered a cigar, don't you know, he takes it. See?
When he is out to dinner, you know, he takes a cigar every time the box is passed, d'ye understand, and, by Jove, sometimes two or three, you know! He manages this way to worry along on $20,000 a year—oh, yass, by Jove, it's so infernally mean, you know! And when you smoke him, you founder cigars picked up that way, you know, you really don't know, you know, what you're getting. See?"
And my friend Brown grew quite indignant about it and thinks it ought to be exposed, so I expose it. This thing of being expected to smoke the tag end of other people's dinners is a social outrage.—
Pittsburg Dispatch.

A Colonial Harp.

The largest harp ever made, so far as is known, was that invented and constructed by M. Veritan, provost of Burk, near Basle. It was known as the gigantic meteorological Aeolian harp. It was 320 feet in length and was erected in the garden of its inventor in 1787. This harp consisted of 15 iron wires, 320 feet in length, stretched between two poles. The wires were from two to three inches apart, the largest being one-sixth of an inch in thickness and the smallest one-twelfth of an inch. They were placed in the direction of north and south and inclined in such a manner as to form an angle of from 20 to 30 degrees with the horizon, being stretched by means of rollers properly disposed for the purpose. Whenever the weather changed, the wires sounded with such loudness that it was impossible to go on with a concert in the house. The sound sometimes represented the hissing noise of water in rapid ebullition, sometimes that of a harmonicon and sometimes that of distant chimies or an organ.—Brooklyn Eagle.

A King's Retort.

King Victor Emmanuel used often to tire before the termination of a day's sport, and mules and horses being out of the question in the precipitous mountain paths he would mount on the back of his chief huntsman, an Alpine Herules, named Borretta. One day Borretta, having the king's back, was crossing a terrent. The king, having raised his foot to avoid getting his gaiter wet, the sudden movement almost galloped Borretta. Unmindful for a moment of the rank of his burden, he growled out: "Tente an, bourlor!" ("Hold steady, you jackass"). Without manifesting the least irritation or surprise, the king replied, "You apparently ignore, friend Borretta, that the jackass is the one who carries the load." And nothing more was said about the matter.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Not to Be Mentioned.

One day the children were having an object lesson on the blue heron. The teacher called attention to its small tail, saying, "The bird has no tail to speak of."
The next day she asked the scholars to write a description of the bird, and a little German girl wound up by saying, "The blue heron has a tail, but it must not be talked about."—Babyhood.

Potatoes.

When you have skinned your plain boiled potatoes, take them at once to the open door or window and give them a vigorous shaking in the draft. They will become white and mealy. Try it once, and you will do it always, so great is the improvement, says the New York Telegram.

Interlined "Celluloid" Collars and Cuffs
turn water like a duck's back and show neither spot nor soil. They are not effected by perspiration, and always look as if right out of the box. When they get soiled you can clean them in a minute by simply wiping off with a wet cloth. These are but a few of the advantages of wearing the "Celluloid" Collars and Cuffs. There are many others that you will readily discover the first time you wear one.
They are the only waterproof interlined collars and cuffs made. Be sure to LEVERET C. HAZELTON, who confessed to having participated in wrecking a passenger train on the Soo road by sawing the sleepers of the bridge over which the train was to pass, causing the engine to go through the bridge and killing the fireman, was brought down to Wausau from Merrill and sentenced by Judge Hardeen to twenty years in state prison at hard labor, last Monday. The object of the wreckers was robbery. Frank Williams is still under arrest on the same charge, but he strongly maintains his innocence. Hazelton purchased some sugar at Rhinelander, and left his coat containing the package of sugar near the wreck. It was this that led to the capture of Hazelton and Williams. The former finally broke down and on Oct. 30th he confessed. He is a boyish looking fellow, about 20 years of age.

Farmers, See Here!

A New Industry!

We have begun the manufacture of a new line of goods, and with a factory located right here in your own county, producing goods that are warranted to be the very best and selling them at "hard times" prices, there is no excuse left to go without machinery that you need. No farm equipment is complete without it. It pays for itself. When you buy you simply loan so much money (a small amount) for a short time to the machinery. The machinery soon pays it all back to you, with big interest.

Feed Cutters, Wood Saws, Horse Powers and Jacks.

THE JERSEY NO. 10 FEED CUTTER. Like the noted breed after which it is rightly named, it produces the best results from the least quantity of fodder. We build the right kind. It is a cylinder cutter, 10 inch throat, has 3 knives each 15 inches long and so constructed that the knives cut sharking and consequently CUT EASY. For hand power we provide the machine with two 100 pound fly wheels. For horse or steam power we provide one 100 pound fly wheel and a safety clutch pulley, which effectually prevents breakage in the event of any hard substance being fed into the machine. The rollers can be stopped instantly, while the cylinder is in motion. A big, strong and substantial machine. Price, $32.00.

COMMON SENSE WOOD SAW MACHINE. The most popular design known. Has tilting table supplied with rollers. Heavy fly wheel on arbor. Carries any size of circular saw up to 30 inches diameter.

CLIMAX FOUR HORSE POWER. Positively the best. In producing this machine we have given special attention to the matter of strength. Our power is practically indestructible. Has two speeds and three hitches for tumbling rod. Price, $45.00. Come and examine it and be convinced that no other manufacturer offers as good a power for as little money.

BEVEL GEARED JACK. Geared 3 to 1. Has strong cast iron frame and can be fitted with any size of pulley to suit the required speed.

OUR OWN GUARANTEE goes with each and every one of the above described machines.

In addition to these we will handle the best of feed grinders, corn shellers, drag saws and such other goods as are connected with this class.
